CHANGKUFENG SETTLEMENT EXPECTED

JAPAN PINS HOPES TO PEACE PLAN

Russian Reply to New Overtures Received But Not Made Public

Tokyo, Aug. 6.

The well-known newspaper, Hochi Shimbun indicates that the Japanese Cabinet is optimistic regarding M. Maxim Litvinoff's reply to the Japanese proposals regarding the Changkufeng incident, and expects early negotiations to be opened.

The Foreign Office spent the night decoding Mr. Shigemitsu's despatch containing the Soviet reply, but they declined to reveal its contents.

A spokesman said that the Japanese would not retaliate at Changkufeng pending a diplomatic settlement, the possibilities of which are regarded as favourable.—United Press.

Japan's Next Move Awaited

Moscow, Aug. 5.
After M. Maxim Litvinoff's statement regarding the Soviet attitude to the Soviet-Manchukuo border incident, the Russian Government is waiting for Japan to make the next move.

So far as is known Japan has not yet replied to the note, but the tension which was acute yesterday, relaxed somewhat to-day.

Informed observers express the opinion that the Soviets are anxious to avoid war and are ready to consider any reasonable proposal provided the Japanese troops are first withdrawn from what is regarded as Soviet territory.

A Tokyo message says that the Soviet reply to Mr. Shigemitsu's proposals are being considered in official quarters, and it is believed they are "roughly acceptable."—Reuter.

FORMER COLONIAL TREASURER PASSES ON

News has reached the Hongkong Telegraph from London that Mr. Melvynne Messer, o.b.e., former Colonial Treasurer in Hongkong, died at Leniholme, Ilsey, Oxford on July 20.

Mr. Messer left the Colony in 1931 after 34 years of service.

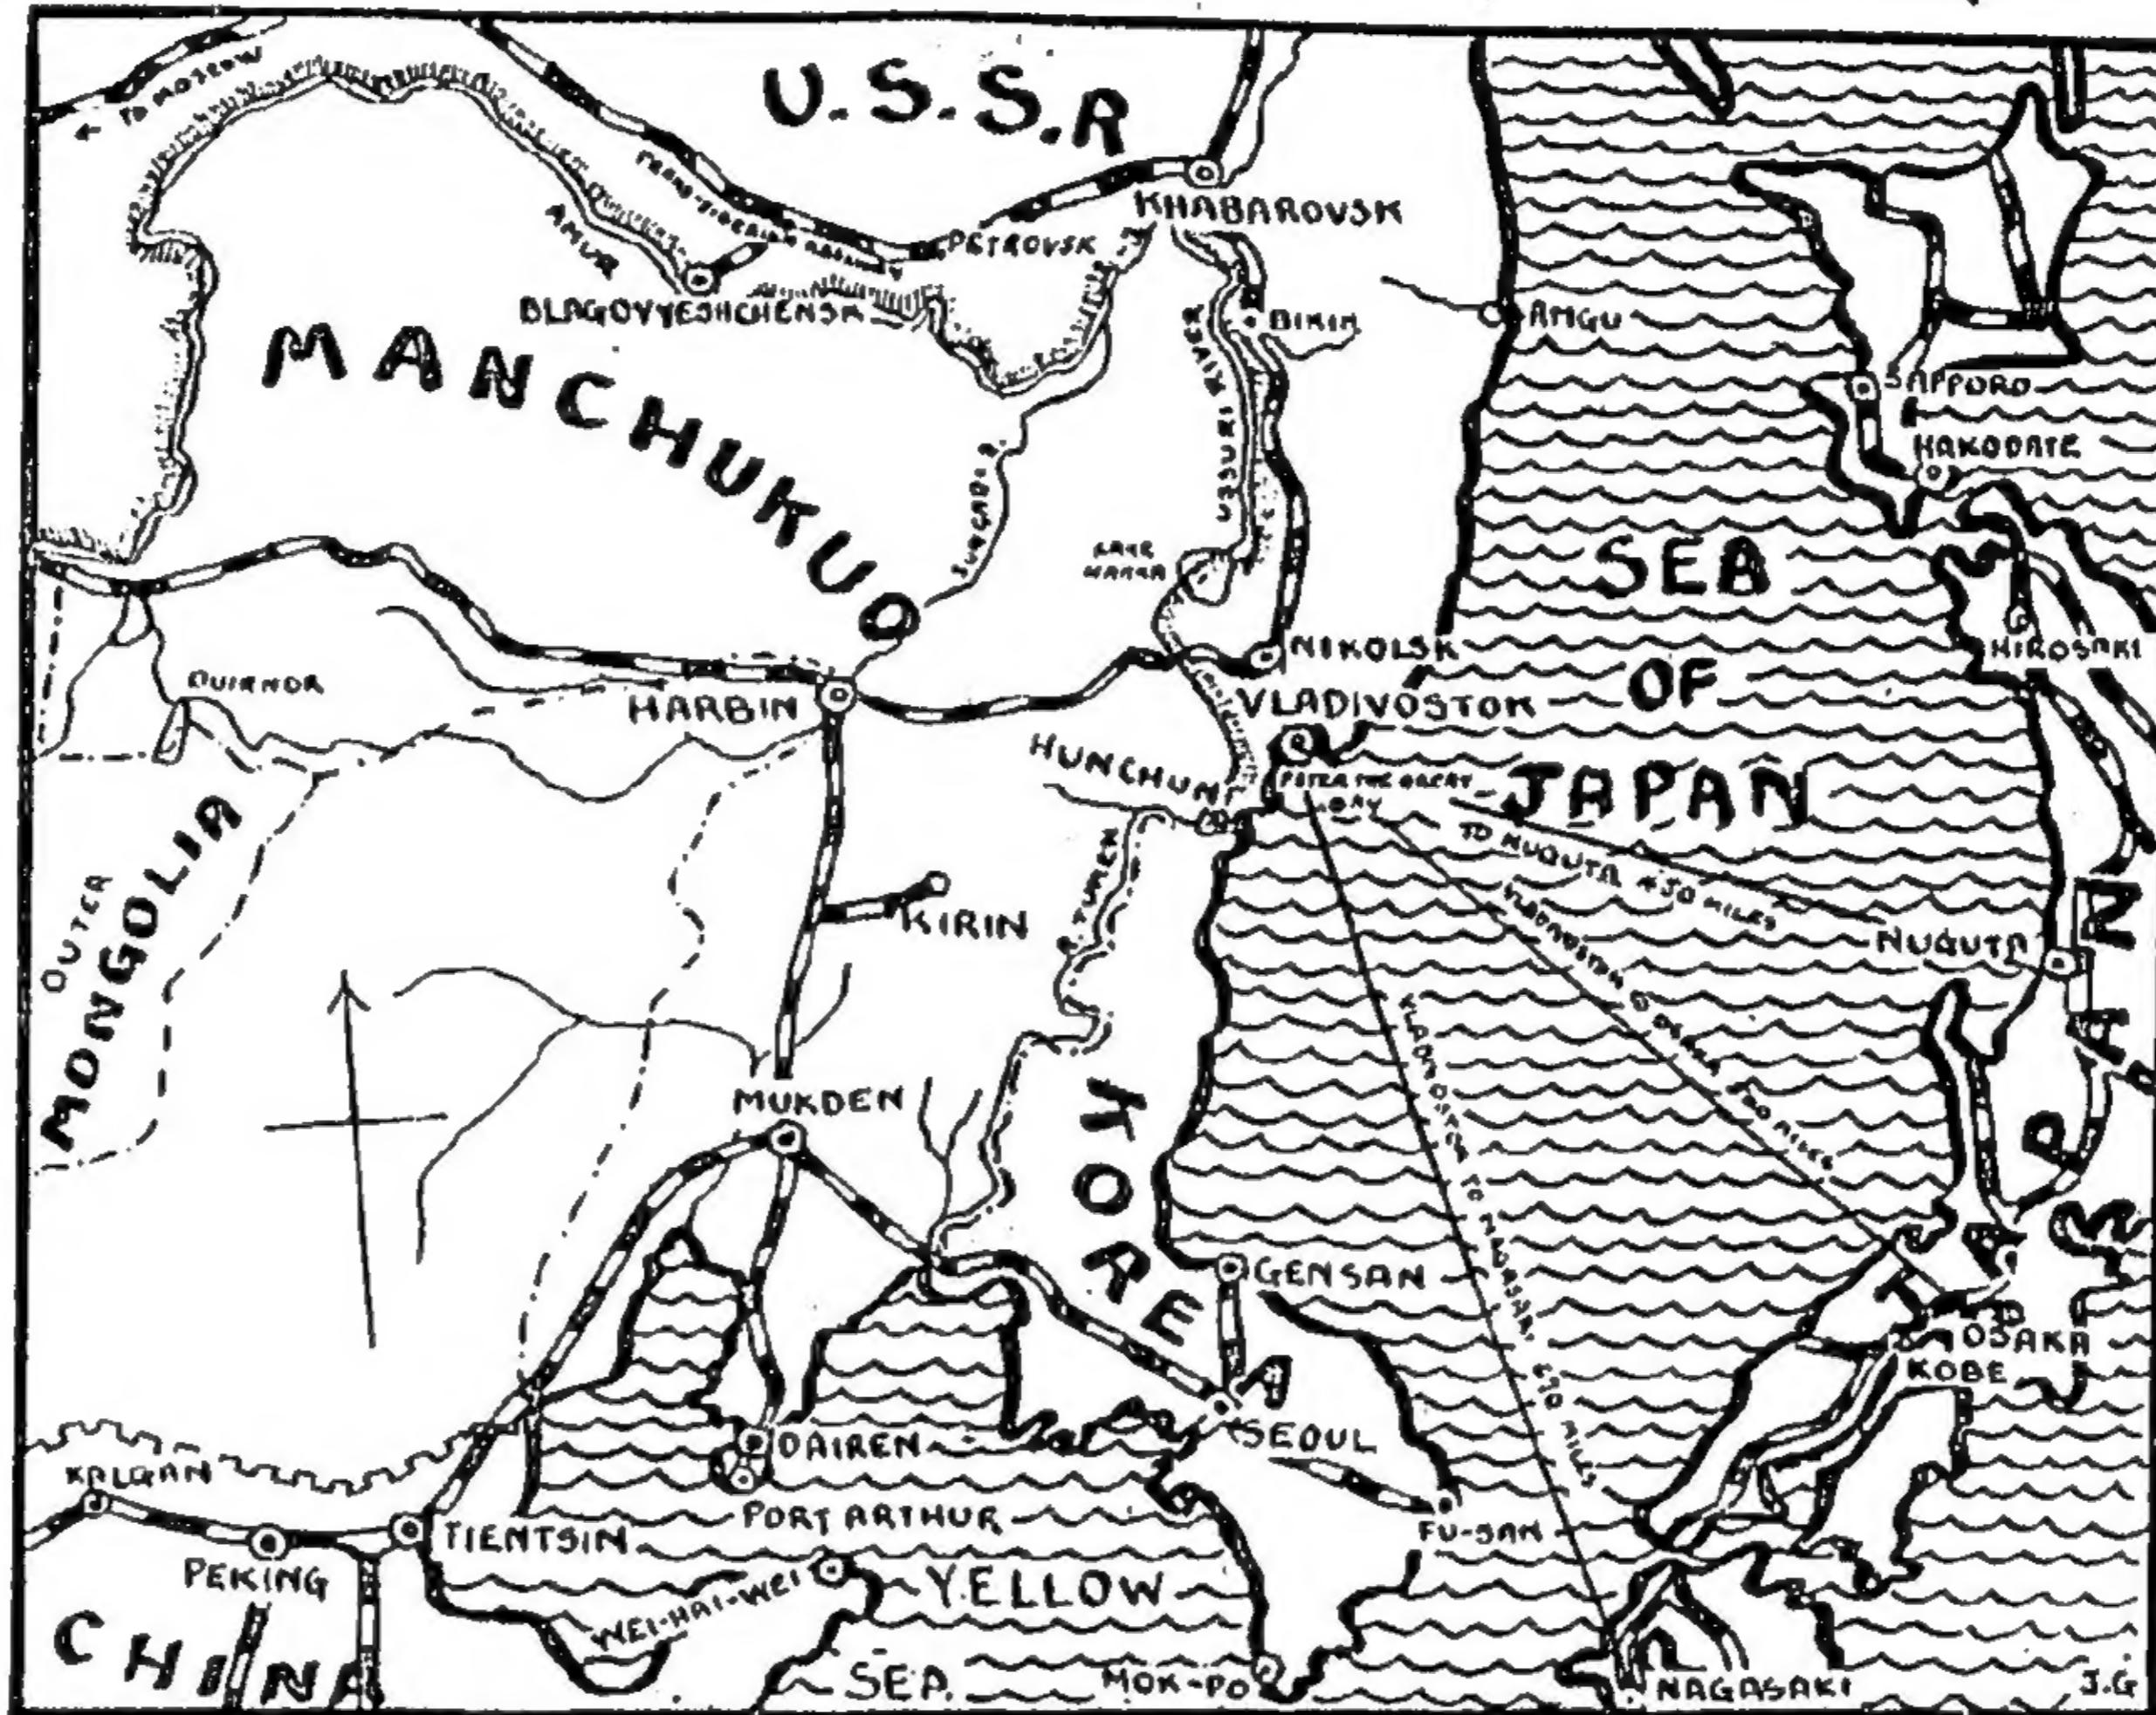

He was appointed a Cadet after a brilliant university career at Cambridge in 1897.

In 1901 he was appointed Acting Colonial Treasurer and made a member of the Executive and Legislative Councils. In 1902 he was given the post of what now is Secretary for Chinese Affairs, and in 1907 was Postmaster General and, for brief periods was also Acting Colonial Treasurer.

Then, for over twelve years he was Colonial Treasurer, and Custodian of Enemy Property.

He will be remembered in Hongkong as a keen yachtsman and yachtsman and a keen supporter of the Royal Hongkong Yacht Club.

Japanese Need Huge Force for Hankow Drive

Peak Murder Culprit May Hang Monday

It is understood that Lam Chan, the house-boy who murdered Mrs. Challinor, wife of Mr. R. H. Challinor, at their residence, 499 The Peak, and was convicted and sentenced to death at the Criminal Sessions last month, will probably be hanged on Monday morning.

CORRIGAN WILDLY WELCOMED

Manhattan Goes Mad Over Flier

New York, Aug. 5.
To-day was a great day for the Irish, who laughed and yelled like reception said: "Lindbergh is not only the greatest man in the world, and I wouldn't be here, and this wouldn't be happening, if it were not for him. If all my mistakes turn out like this I'll be a lucky guy."

The police estimated that a crowd of about 750,000 welcomed Corrigan, which was twice as big, and three times as noisy as at the reception given recently to Howard Hughes after his record-breaking flight around the world.—United Press.

CHINA TO RESTRICT EXCHANGE ALLOCATION

Reliable Reports From Shanghai

Shanghai, Aug. 6.
It is reliably reported that the allocation of foreign exchange will be further restricted by the Chinese Government.

Under the new ruling, which becomes effective on Monday next, foreign exchange will only be extended to importers to cover their foreign goods ordered last year.

No foreign credit will be given to cover commodities ordered this year unless special permission is obtained from the Government for such orders beforehand.

Applications for foreign exchange credits to defray the expenses of Chinese students abroad and for the support of Chinese families overseas will be considered once a month.—Reuter.

GIRDLES GLOBE

Berlin, Aug. 5.
Captain Hans Bertram, in the Nordwind, arrived here to-day, thereby completing a girdling of the globe's commercial air lines in 20 days 21 hours, 35 minutes.—United Press.

VITALLY AFFECTION AREAS, which, if Russians and Japanese fight at Changkufeng and the hostilities spread along the frontier, will be within the range of war, are here depicted. The distances between Vladivostok and Japan and Khabarovsk and Japanese strategic points are small hops for big bombers.

OVER 900 PLANES IN MOCK WARFARE OVER CLOUD-DIM BRITAIN

London, Aug. 6.
The biggest mock air war ever staged in England began yesterday morning at 10 o'clock when it was publicly announced that "London will be attacked to-night by hostile bomber squadrons."

Over 900 aircraft are taking part, more than twice the number participating in the exercises a year ago.

"Eastland" is the territory of the imaginary attacking power and its forces are now attacking "Westland" on a front extending from Folkestone to the mouth of the Humber.

GOVERNMENT TURNS DOWN LIDO SCHEME

No Permit For Big Shek-O Project

The $250,000 scheme to create a super-Lido at Island Bay beach, Shek-O has fallen through—at least for the time-being.

The project, formulated by Mr. A. Landau, proprietor of the well-known "Jimmy's Kitchen" has been rejected by the Government, which has refused to grant a permit.

The express reasons for this refusal have not been given, but, it is understood, the site may be needed by the military authorities.

It is understood that Mr. Landau may seek further explanation from Government for its refusal to grant a permit, as no objection to the scheme has been raised by the Shek-O Trustees, which administer the adjoining golf course.

Mr. Landau envisaged in his plan the building of a restaurant, ballroom and 150 de-luxe cabins for bathing parties.

In the meantime, "Jimmy," as he is popularly known in Hongkong, is extending his interests as a restauranteur, and is acquiring Franscotti's Restaurant in the Wang Hing Building, Queen's Road Central.

14 Killed In Explosion In Italian Ship

Rome, Aug. 5.
It is officially reported that 14 sailors were killed and 20 injured as a result of a boiler explosion aboard the cruiser Quinto Agosto, off Majorca.—United Press.

CRUISER NOT BADLY DAMAGED

Rome, Aug. 5.
Five were killed immediately and ten died later, while 20 others seriously injured, in a boiler room explosion on the Italian cruiser Quinto Agosto, which was anchored off Majorca. Apart from the effects of the actual explosion, the cruiser was not badly damaged.—Reuter.

ARDUOUS CAMPAIGN FACING INVADERS ALONG ALL ROUTES

Topography Hinders Cavalry On Flanking Operations

Telegraphic Messages Ordinance, 1894. Copyright by United Press. Received by Radio, August 6, 2.02 a.m.; Published August 6, 10.15 a.m.

Nanchang, Aug. 6.

Small units of Japanese cavalry are at present trying to outflank the Chinese positions twelve miles northeast of Tahan, near Teichiayao, and south of Kiukiang, which is said to be a most difficult task because the country is very hilly and the paddy-fields and narrow paths make it impossible for cavalry to operate successfully.

The strongest Chinese positions around Hsingtze have not been attacked.

It is believed to be the Japanese intention to drive on to Nanchang, which is a grave undertaking because of the powerful Chinese defences confronting them. These were prepared months ago.

Britain Sends Franco Second Urgent Note

London, Aug. 5.

Great Britain is reminding General Franco for the second time that he has not replied to the Non-Intervention Committee's plan for the withdrawal of volunteers from Spain.

Mr. R. Hodgson, British Agent at Salamanca, has been instructed to request General Franco to give the matter his urgent attention.—Reuter.

It is said the Japanese preference is to make for Changsha on the Canton-Hankow Railway, and that their second preference is a direct threat upon Hankow from Yungtsu, 40 miles north of Nanchang, through Tayeh. If the invaders attempt this latter march it is felt the fighting at present proceeding on the north bank of Yangtze near Hwangmei is most important, for unless the Japanese are able to progress on the north bank they will not be able to advance on the south bank, because the Chinese would be able to outflank them and cut their communications.

It will be a dangerous adventure to attempt an overland drive from Nanchang to Changsha, too, for the Japanese would have to fight through strange, hilly country, like the Ozark and Sulping districts, where Chinese mobile units could easily (Continued on Page 4.)

CHANGKUFENG FIGHT AGAIN THREATENING

15,000 Japan-Trained
Chinese Desert
And Join Raiders

Peiping, Aug. 6.

A battle with guerrilla troops, in which the Japanese used six tanks and several field-guns, was fought yesterday east of Tungchow, 20 miles east of Peiping, according to a foreign motorist, who nearly ran into the battlefield while attempting to reach Tientsin by road, and found himself near the tanks and guns which were firing on the guerrilla positions across the Peiping-Tientsin highway.

The motorist reports that much of the low-lying country in that region is flooded, apparently as a result of the heavy rains.

These messages state "The Russians are apparently planning to recapture Changkufeng before a diplomatic settlement is reached."

They assert the Japanese are consequently keeping a vigilant watch on the situation is now taken here, however, as illustrated by a remark of the Foreign Office spokesman: "There's no sign of the trouble spreading to other points on the border."

It is believed Japan will agree to demarcation of the frontier in the Changkufeng area on the basis of the Sino-Russian treaty of 1888, which would provide a good breathing-space, while the inevitable controversy rages on interpretation.—Reuter.

Increasing guerrilla activity in Hopel, plus the Manchukuo border affair is creating an optimism among the local Chinese which might easily prove to be dangerous.—Reuter.

WE WERE RIGHT, SAYS LORD CRANBORNE

"I Do Not Regret My Resignation"

VISCOUNT CRANBORNE, former Under-Secretary at the Foreign Office, who resigned with Mr. Eden, speaking near Burton-on-Trent recently, said Britain must make it plain that she was not going to be bullied or frightened.

"If the belief once gains currency abroad that we are ready to sacrifice principles to which we attach importance to buy temporary relief, the whole structure of peace will be irreparably shaken," he said.

"That was the danger which Mr. Eden foresaw in February last. That was the main reason why we resigned, and subsequent events have not made me regret that decision. On the contrary, they have confirmed it."

"The idea that we can eliminate causes of friction between us and authoritarian States merely by a series of concessions on our side is clearly futile.

"It could only give an impression to those with whom we have to deal that we are for peace at any price. It could only encourage them to further demands."

ONLY WISE COURSE

"I suggest that our only wise course is to make it clear, once and for all, that though no one in this country is warlike, though indeed we abhor war, our policy is governed, and must be governed, by certain fundamental principles; and, above all, by the principle of good faith in international relations, and that we can do nothing which might tend to weaken that principle, which we believe to be essential for the maintenance of peace and civilisation."

"Any effort to compel us would be to risk a conflict so long and so formidable that no one could gain any advantage from it. So, and so alone, I believe can war be avoided."

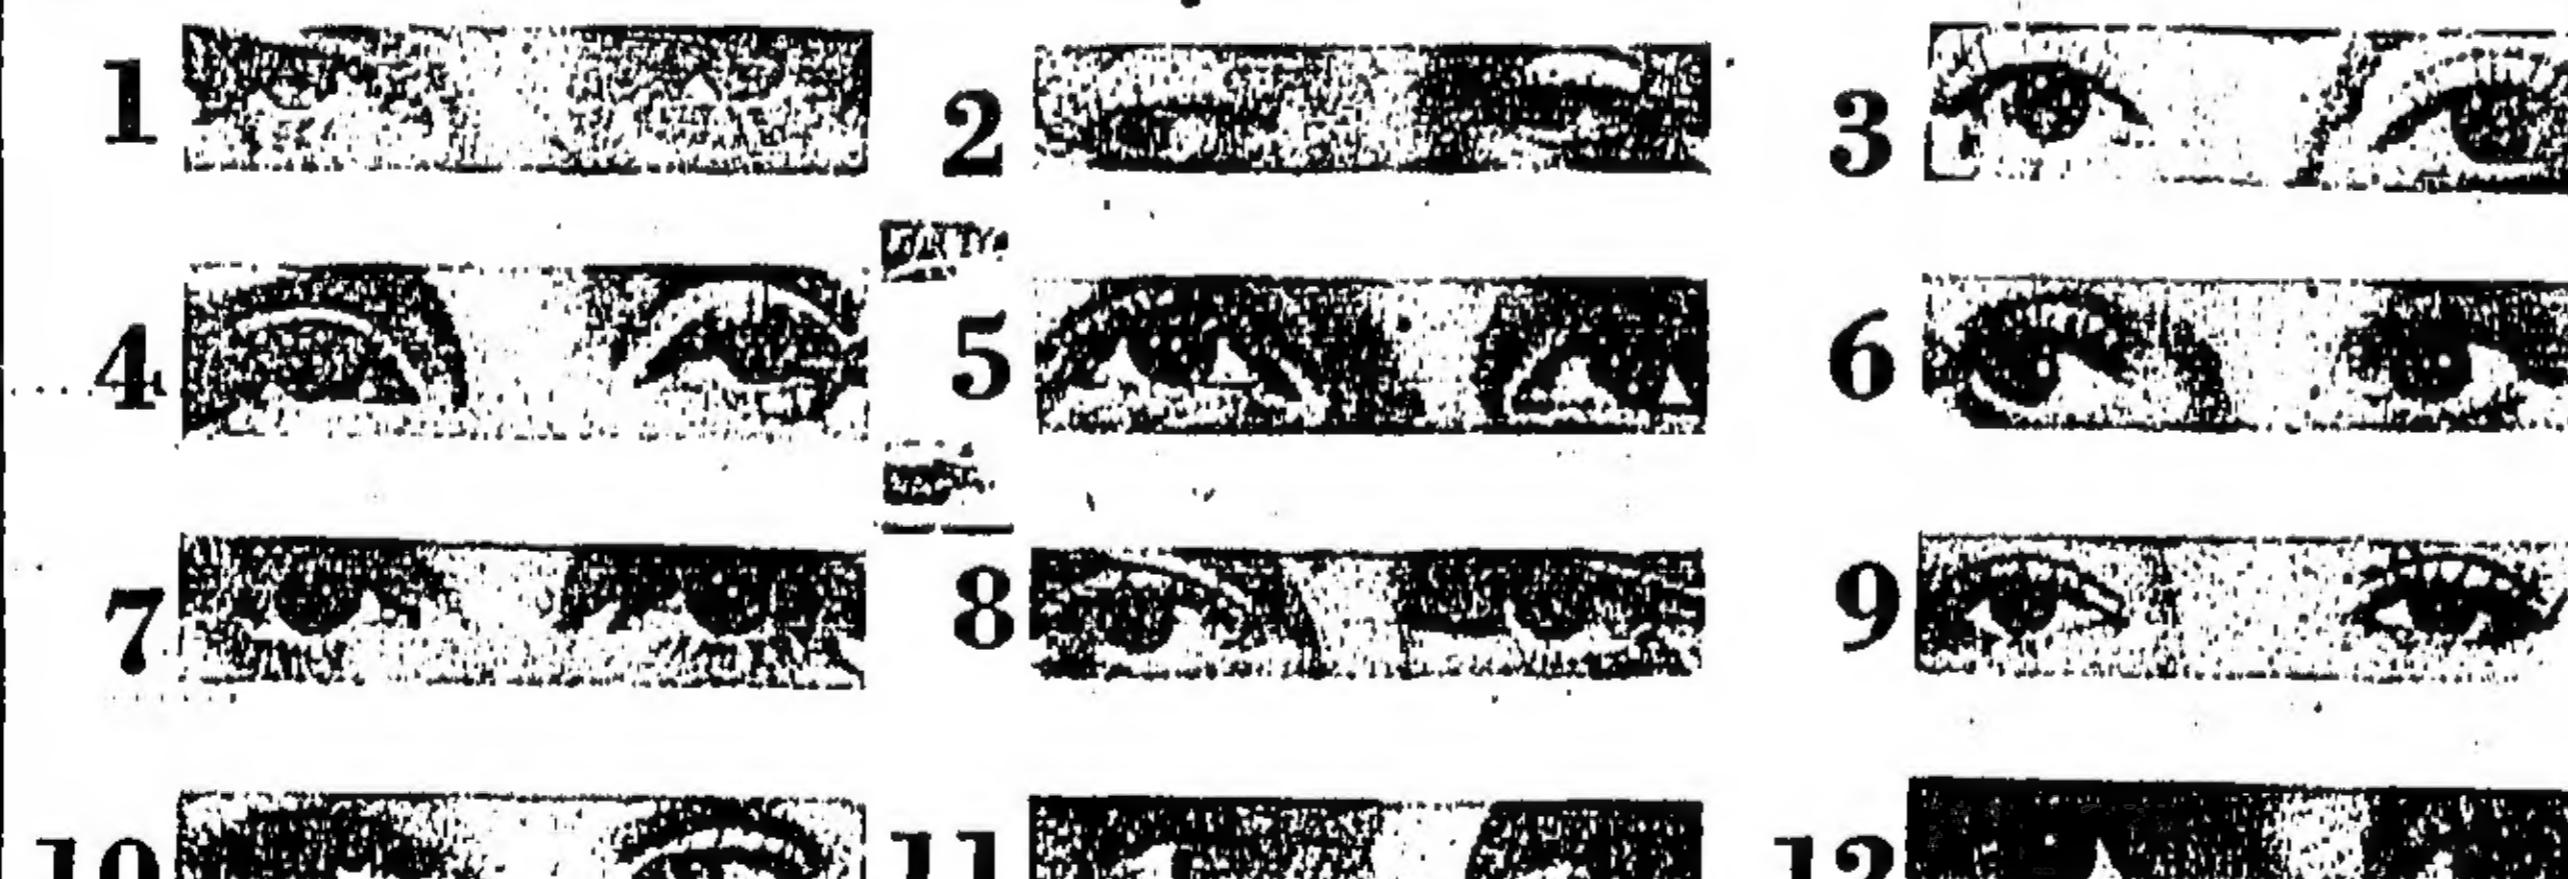

"If we show ourselves weak, the position will be desperate indeed. The idea that a stronger attitude by England means war is the very reverse of the truth. If we are feeble and vacillating, we shall be discredited, and rightly discredited."

U.S.A. "COMING ROUND"

Speaking at the Richard Cobden Memorial, Midhurst, Sussex, last month, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, President of Columbia University, New York, said American public opinion was coming round to Mr. Cordell Hull's appeal to the United States to lead the world in organising the preservation of peace and the enforcement of law.

American public opinion sympathised with China and had pronounced views on many happenings in Europe, but the Neutrality Act interfered. Probably, at the next session of Congress that Act would disappear. Public opinion had marched forward to the old feeling of co-operation.

'GOOD LUCK!' SAYS NEHRU TO SCOTS HOME RULERS

JAWAHARLAL NEHRU (shown on left), former president of the Indian National Congress, was the guest at the House of Commons of the M.P. members of the London Scots Self-Government Committee.

Mr. Neil MacLean, M.P., who told Nehru that he had been a member of the Home Rule for India League, 20 years ago, presided.

Nehru said he was greatly interested in the Scots Self-Government movement, which he wished every success.

"The less we have of concentration in Westminster," he said, "the better. I hope that this movement will sympathise with our Party and with our demand for the independence of India."

"£5 PREMIER" PROMISES TO PAY

Privy Council Quashes Acts

MR. WILLIAM ABERHART, Social Credit Premier of Alberta, who pledged three years ago to give £5 a month dividends to all citizens, shouted angry protests over the telephone from Canada and promised to pay "some time."

When I (Writes a Daily Express reporter) rang him up, he had just received by cable news that the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council—the Empire's highest tribunal—sitting in Downing Street, had disallowed three of his Acts which were to make his plan possible.

The Bills passed were the Bank Taxation Bill, the Credit Regulation Bill, and the Press Bill.

Canada's Supreme Court decided that the provincial parliament had no power to pass them.

Lord Atkin, sitting with four other Law Lords, dismissed it.

Mr. Aberhart, ex-Sunday school teacher and evangelist, blurted into the telephone:

"We can't override that. I know it. But it has nothing to do with Social Credit. All that's wild talk."

"Do you hear me? Those Bills—not the Press Bill—were to raise taxation. It's all a question of taxation, not Social credit. We tax farms, we tax property, we wanted to tax banks."

The Bank Bill proposed an annual tax of one-half per cent. on paid-up capital, and one per cent. on reserve funds. It was expected to raise £460,000.

The Credit Regulation Bill embodied a licensing system for institutions dealing in credit with control over the policy of those funds.

I asked Mr. Aberhart: "When will you pay your dividends?"

Mr. Aberhart laughed bitterly. It seemed to me, then sighed: "Oh dear. Oh dear. I don't know. A lot of hooey has been talked about those dividends. But when we have more purchasing power, we shall pay."

The Press Bill proposed that Alberta newspapers should be bound, after publishing any statement on Government policy, to print a statement correcting or amplifying the original report if asked by the chairman of the Social Credit Board now defunct.

They were also bound to supply, on request, sources of information.

NEHRU TALKS OF "ROBBERY"

JAWAHARLAL NEHRU, former president of the Indian National Congress, received a tremendous ovation when he attended a public meeting at Kingsway Hall to welcome him to England.

The large audience rose to their feet when he entered, and cheered him for a full minute.

Mr. H. H. Elvin, chairman of the T.U.C. General Council, said they were working out a scheme by which young Indian leaders from the working classes would be able to come to the T.U.C. and learn all they could of the operation of the great trade unions in Britain.

"ROBBERY"

The story of the relationship of Great Britain and India could be summed up in three words—robbery, robbery and robbery.

Nehru, expressing thanks for his ovation, said that it was a generous gesture to the people of India, but it must be realised that gestures did not go far.

If your conception of freedom is a limited freedom, then there is something very radically wrong," he said.

"There is great indignation at the bombing of Barcelona and Canton, but there is no difference between that bombing and the bombing of the North-West Frontier of India.

INDIA'S PROBLEM

The problem of India is the problem of the removal of Imperialism. You cannot solve that problem within the fabric of the British or any other Imperialism."

The people of India, he added, were not going to be parties to the foreign policy of the British Government.

"We are going to be no party to the result of the foreign policies—wars and the like."

An overflow meeting, also crowded, was held in St. Pancras Town Hall.

GREY OWL'S £20,000

Montreal. It is estimated that the estate of "Grey Owl," the naturalist whose writings, lectures, and broadcasts brought him fame, may reach £20,000, but no official figure can be given until his will is proved some weeks hence.

"Grey Owl" is said to have made £10,000 from his last English lecture tour. He devoted most of his income to schemes for the benefit of North American Indians and the conservation of wild life.

and frequently cut their communications.

It is estimated that whatever route the Japanese follow to Hankow, or whether they attempt a march by three directions, it will be necessary to employ at least 200,000 men.

At present, according to reports, there are two divisions at least south of Kuklung.—United Press.

Japanese Repulsed

Hankow, Aug. 6. While the Japs continue on the bank of the Yangtse, severe fighting broke out on the north bank in the vicinity of Shuchiu, south-west of Chilenshan, yesterday.

Despite a severe pounding by Japanese artillery, which fired 1,000 shells, the Chinese troops, according to a military communiqué, stood their ground and later repulsed repeated Japanese attacks.—Reuter.

Terrific Fighting Along Yangtse

Nanchang, Aug. 6. Terrific fighting is raging on both the north and south banks of the Yangtse River.

The Japanese on the south bank are attempting to blast their way to Nanchang before the flood spreads to the Poyang Lake area but are unable to make any headway because of stiff Chinese resistance and the difficult terrain.

For the past two days the Japanese have hurled a deluge of shells on the Chinese positions at Shubo, 17 kilometres south of Kuklung. Under the heavy barrage their infantry have launched repeated onslaughts in an effort to break through the Chinese line, but without success. The attackers have lost no fewer than 2,000 casualties.

The Japanese 100th Division which has been rushed to the Kuklung sector has now been thrown into the field.

With Hwangmien on the Huping-Anhwei border submerged, the Japanese drive on the north bank has been halted, though fighting is still going on in the surrounding high-level-ground. Japanese mechanized units have been rendered ineffective by the flood.

Counter-Attacking

The Chinese troops on the Tien-tsin-Taihu sector are counter-attacking with great success. Japanese communications on the Tien-tsin-Taihu highway have been cut at several points, and several positions to the north-west of both cities have been re-occupied by the Chinese.

Sinochihli, a strategic town midway between Tien-tsin and Taihu, was the scene of bloody fighting yesterday. Japanese artillery heavily bombed the Chinese positions from dawn to noon to cover the advance of some 3,000 infantrymen. Over 1,000 shells were fired but the Chinese firmly held their ground.—Central News.

LESSON SERMON

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Hongkong

SUBJECT—SPIRIT

The Subject of the Lesson Sermon in all Christian Science Churches tomorrow, Aug. 7, will be "Spirit".

The Golden Text will be: "The fruit of the Spirit is in all goodness and righteousness and truth". (Eph. 5:9).

Among others the following citations will be read from the Bible, "Thus saith God the Lord, he that created the heavens and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth and that which cometh out of it; he that giveth breath to the people upon it and spirit to them that walk therein; I am the Lord; that is my name; and my glory will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images. God is a Spirit; worship him in spirit and in truth, and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth." (Isa. 42: 5, 6, 8. John 4:24).

The following citations will also be read from the Christian Science Text-book "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Spirit—Divine substance; Mind; divine Principle; all that is good; God; that only which is perfect, everlasting, omnipresent, omnipotent, infinite. In Christian Science, Spirit, as a proper noun is the name of the Supreme Being. It means quantity and quality and applies exclusively to God. The Scriptures imply that God is all-in-all. The Scriptures also declare that God is Spirit. He fills all space and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual." (Pages 594, 93 and 331.)

DO YOU KNOW

That in the construction of the first of Pan-American Airways' new 42-ton Boeing flying boats, eleven and a half miles of electrical wiring, 3,000 feet of metal piping, and 6,000 feet of control cable have been used?

That retractable landing gear on modern aircraft increases their speed from 15 to 25 miles per hour?

That the only living thing that flies faster than an aeroplane is a fly? The deer fly has been clocked at 80 miles an hour!

That there is no such thing as an "air-pocket"? Vertical ascending or descending air currents cause "bumps" sometimes experienced while flying, and generally erroneously attributed to vacuums in the air.

That the first aeroplane flight across America was made in 1911 by C. P. Rodgers who completed the 2,800 mile trip in 30 days? To-day three airlines operate day and night schedules across America in less than 10 hours.

That in 1881 a United States patent was actually granted on an aircraft that was to have been propelled by four eagles?

FOOTBALL MATTERS

H.K.F.C. Elects
Mr. R. M. McLay
New President

efficient manner in which he has carried out his duties during the year. A bar convener's is a most arduous job, and I would like Mr. Andrews to know that we fully appreciate his work on behalf of the Club.

The main feature of the Balance Sheet is the almost entire absence of capital expenditure. The only item appears under the heading "Tools and Equipment," and comprises the cost of a new lawnmower for the exclusive use of the bowling green. It is realised that the green must be kept in as perfect condition as possible, and it is hoped that the acquisition of a first-class mower will help materially to attain this end.

Assets have been written down in accordance with the usual scale of depreciation, and, since current profits are unfortunately not sufficient to meet this charge, the Reserve Account, which represents accumulation of past profits, must be reduced accordingly.

The only blemish in an otherwise healthy Balance Sheet is the Bank overdraft, to which I have already referred. To-day, I am glad to say, the overdraft stands at the reduced figure of $4,133.93, but it should be still smaller if all members would make a point of paying their subscriptions for the current year on demand. To date, only $2,310 has been collected by the Treasurer in respect of subscriptions, and I would appeal to all members who have not yet paid to send their subscription without further delay to the Treasurer.

Officers Elected

In concluding my comments on the accounts, I wish to express our thanks to Mr. Black, our Honorary Treasurer, for his unmitting interest in the Club's affairs and the valuable assistance which he renders to the Committee.

With regard to the general activities of the Club, I cannot add much to the report already submitted by the Committee, nor to the review of the season's play which I made on the occasion of the annual dinner.

We now look forward to another season. Our football pitch and bowling green are in good condition and our Club house, with changing rooms, showers, etc. is certainly more attractive than it has ever been. It remains to attract players—young and old—and encourage them by all means in our power to become sufficiently fit to uphold and improve, if possible, the standard of play and spirit of sportsmanship which is associated with the name of the Hongkong Football Club.

In conclusion, Gentlemen, I would express our thanks to our Honorary Secretary, Mr. E. L. Strange, who has carried out his duties in a most willing and efficient manner throughout the year.

I now formally propose "That the Report and Accounts for the year ended May 31, 1938, as presented, be and are hereby adopted."

Dr. J. A. R. Selby seconded and the Report and Accounts were adopted.

The following officers were elected: President, Mr. R. M. McLay; Vice-President, Mr. H. R. Forsyth; Hon. Secretary, Mr. E. L. Strange; Hon. Treasurer, Mr. W. L. Alexander; Committee, Chairman (Mr. J. Raison), Soccer Representatives (Mr. W. Pryde and Mr. J. Skinner), Rugby Representatives (Mr. C. Austin and Mr. W. R. N. Andrews), Bowls Representatives (Mr. J. S. Howell and Mr. J. Russell); Rugby Captain and Vice-Captain (Mr. H. B. Bidwell and Mr. A. J. G. Captain), Soccer Captain and Vice-Captain (Mr. E. L. Strange and E. Brown).

It will be noted that members' subscriptions are still the mainstay of the Club's income. Gate receipts have dwindled to a comparatively small figure, and, with the advent of numerous other well-equipped playing fields, this source of income can no longer be relied upon to contribute in any great measure to the Club funds.

We have established a first-class playing field, and take a natural pride in maintaining it as such. To this end we rely more and more on members' subscriptions—and, of course, the Bank.

The point is that we must reduce our liability to the Bank. I propose, therefore, to recommend to the incoming Committee that members' subscriptions be raised to, say, $15 per annum. I am aware that the matter has been considered by the outgoing Committee, and doubtless members will be notified in due course if the Committee ultimately decide, as I hope they will, that the matter be referred to members at an early date.

On the expenditure side you will observe that, under most headings, expenses have been reduced. Lawn bowls expenses appear to be unduly heavy in relation to income derived from bowling subscriptions. I do not elect, however, to enquire too deeply into this question of expense, since I know the inevitable answer. In case some of you are not au courant with bowling technique, I should explain that every bowler is reputed to use both hands—one on the bar and one on the wood—hence the bowling members are convinced that they are responsible for 90 per cent. of the bar profits. (Laughter). This remains to be proved within the next few months.

Overdraft Reduced

Before I leave the atmosphere of the bar, I wish to take the opportunity of thanking Mr. Andrews, our honorary bar convener, for the most

Overdraft Reduced

In reply to Mr. Robinson who asked why depreciation on the lawn bowls green was not shown, the Chairman said the ground was valuable but perhaps depreciation was not shown because of the possibility of Government taking it back.

The meeting closed with an expression of thanks to the Chairman by Mr. Raison.

MAN CALLS AT YARD DEMANDS "ARREST ME FOR HER MURDER"

THOMAS FRANKLIN VINCE, 6ft. 2in. chauffeur, disabled war veteran and ex-male nurse, rode to Scotland-yard on his motor-cycle recently, went inside, and invited the police to arrest him for murder. They asked him to come back later, when the matter would be considered.

Vince was the man of whom counsel in the Probate Court last month said: "He came near to committing constructive murder."

It was alleged that while aboard ship in the Red Sea with his elderly employer, Mrs. Edith Pullen, he used undue influence to get her signature to a will in which she left him £3,500. That will was set aside.

To-day he is penniless. His cooked meat shop in Brighton has collapsed through lack of business—due, he says, to local gossip branding him as "the man who bumped off the old lady at sea."

So recently he decided to take drastic action.

Vince wanted—and still wants—to be charged with the murder of Mrs. Pullen, so that he will have a chance to clear his name.

On his second visit to Scotland-yard he went with a friend.

TALK AT TABLE

Both were shown up to a small, shabby room on the fourth floor, told to take seats at a big square table in the centre.

A detective inspector who introduced himself as Inspector Ernest Tansley saw them.

Vince, serious and determined, thumped the table, said solemnly:

"Inspector, I want you to charge me with murder. Arrest me. I want to stand my trial for the murder of Mrs. Edith Pullen."

He continued with a rush: "This gossip is driving me crazy. It's ruined my business in Brighton. It's not going to ruin my life—if I can get away with it."

Miss Sifton appealed to the Privy Council in London to revoke the judgment of Mr. Justice Middleton in Ontario that the clause in her father's will must stand.

"It is my ambition to write plays, that is why I appealed against the will," she said to the Sunday Dispatch.

"If I am to write plays successfully, travel is essential, particularly to the great theatre centres of New York, Paris, and London."

For the present Miss Sifton is resting with a friend in a country house at Blenheim, Ontario.

This WAS A Close Shave

YOU'VE heard of narrow shaves. Mr. Charles Inglis, hairdresser, had one—and it wasn't given to a customer.

Mr. Inglis was shaving a man in his shop at Luton when he saw a 3ft. snake wriggle into the shop.

It raised its head and prepared to strike at Mr. Inglis. But he got his blow in first—with a broom, with which he pinned it to the floor.

While a customer held the broom Mr. Inglis severed the snake's head with a pair of scissors.

The snake is thought to have been imported in a crate delivered to the fruiterer's next door.

35 Films To Cost £6,000,000

THIRTY-FIVE big films, to cost £6,000,000, will be made in England and California between now and next March by United Artists.

These films, it was announced at a banquet given to United Artists' staff in London, will include a life of Rudolph Valentino, the greatest male exponent of "sex-appeal," who died in 1926.

Other productions will include "Wuthering Heights," "Transatlantic Flight," new versions of Conan Doyle's "Lost World," A. P. Herbert's "Water Gipsies," "Bene Brummel," "The Man in the Iron Mask" and the Victorian novel, "Robbery Under Arms," with Margaret Sullavan and Brian Aherne.

All the technicolour productions of the company, including many short pictures, are to be made here at the Denham studios.

Hefetz, the famous concert violinist, will make his screen debut in "The Doctor's Ave," and a new star, who will be exploited in four pictures, is Andrea Leeds, the blonde who has already made a great impression with British audiences in "Stage Door" and "The Goldwyn Follies."

These Fires Must "Be On The Level"

OAKHAM Fire Brigade, Rutland, has been ordered by its council not to attend local fires except at Langham, a village two miles away.

The explanation given is that the engine is not strong enough to "take" hills. The road to Langham is flat all the way.

One councillor describes the engine as "a humorous piece of furniture."

"RIPPLES UNDERNEATH THE TREE" is the appropriate title for this delightful camera study, another entry in our competition.

Distance Judging
is a matter of luck, distance measuring simplicity itself, especially with the rotating wedge range-finder built into the SUPER IKONTA $2\frac{1}{4} \times 2\frac{1}{4}$ of Zeiss Ikon. Besides the large negative size, the camera possesses other important advantages usually only connected with miniature cameras, for instance the safety device between film transport and shutter release, to prevent double exposures.

Of Course You Know, But Are You Sure?

By The Dragoman

AN unusual number of readers wrote in this week to say they got into the forties—eight claimed 48 points. No one got 50, though—unless the fifties were too modest to say so.

Lots of people are still asking me to make the questions harder; and just as many are asking for them to be made easier. Which just goes to show us that one man's meat is another man's poison—as they say in the classics.

In case you don't know how to score, take two points for each correct answer, and any total under 30 means a failure.

My grace is Christian. It sufficient for does not authorise, rise them to rest.

Consider the absolute standards imposed (Luke x. 25-28), and we see how we all come short of the glory of God (Romans viii. 26).

But if we do our best to live up to these standards, Christ will attest to the shortage. We shall be justified by His grace.

When a distraught father prayed "Lord, I believe, help Thou my unbelief," he illustrated this principle. Jesus could make his brother sufficient. But there is another illustration in the parable of the unprofitable servant (Matthew xxv. 14-30). He had his talent instead of investing it. Grace did not turn his one to many on the contrary; he was cast into outer darkness, and the bittle he had was taken away.

Dear Kiddies. Not so many entries this week, kiddies. I think the Seniors and Intermediates found the essay competition more difficult than the younger ones sent in position which were obviously not done by them and these entries had therefore to be disqualified. Please do not get your entries in older brothers and sisters do you competition for you. It is not fair and is I think decidedly unporting.

The prize winners this week are:

Mary Grace Ashe (age 12), St. Stephen's College, Stanley.

Robert Pippett (aged 12), 12, Fugard Road, The Peak.

David Ashe (aged 9), St. Stephen's College, Stanley.

Others being sent to Mary Grace Ashe and David which I want them to bring to the Hongkong Telegraph offices. The coupons will then be exchanged for money prizes.

Special commendation for excellent work are the following:

Yvonne Campion, Doris May, Edwin Cropley, Roberta Harcourt, Nedra, Dorothy Teesa, Sante, John Harcourt, Gerry, Odore, Herbert Salmon, cluster medallions.

Irvingart, Sophia. Thank you very much for the happy picture of the junks. Unfortunately you did not give me your name.

Cynthia, Alice, Isabella, Ethel. Your story about the Pirates in the Caver was most interesting. Cynthia, but you too unfortunately did not give your age.

This week we are having a novel farm-yard competition. It is a word puzzle. At first it may seem rather difficult, but if you study the rules very carefully, it will seem quite simple. This competition is only for Senior and Intermediate students from 11 to 14 years whilst Intermediate are from 7 to 11.

You see the large letter F A R M below. You have to use the small letters within them, in the order told you in the clues, to spell the names of five creatures mentioned on the farm.

For example, with clue No. 1, the only letter within the big A and B, and not within any of the other outlines, is D. Then the letter in the C outline is D, then the letter in the D outline is K, and so on. The word which fits within the F A and B is K, making DUCK. In the same way follow the clues carefully and try to discover the other four names.

Do not forget them, write them five names in a neat numbered list on a postcard, add your name, age and address, and ask your parent or guardian to sign it as your own work done without help. Then post it to the address below.

Prizes of SKITTLES Games will be given for work which is correct and the Editor's opinion the best. Send the postcard to the address below.

1. The letters in A and B only, it only A and M only, and F only.

2. The letters in A and M, and E and F and B.

3. The letters in A and B only, A and E and A only.

4. The letters in A and B only, M only and B and M only.

5. The letters in A, B and M only, and A only.

When you have solved the competition, send your entries to: Uncle Eddie, c/o Hongkong Telegraph, Wyndham Street before 4 p.m. on Wednesday.

Good luck to all and the Juniors (children under seven years of age) to point a crayon any kind of animal, tree or building on a farm. Send your entries to Uncle Eddie, c/o Hongkong Telegraph, before 4 p.m. on Wednesday. Best of luck, kiddies.

MARY AND CLIMAX

By "Animal Lover" (name unknown)

On the late afternoon of last year, I was sent to the London Zoo. There were Max and Climax, twin sons of Jock and June London Zoo lion and lioness. The twins progressed wonderfully and the world was happy.

Max and Climax will play like kittens, and often around their father's anger when they wanted to play and he did not. Then one of them or perhaps both, would probably receive a smack from his big paw.

When they were old enough to leave their parents, the twins would leave one at a time. In the early days, when they were small, they sometimes photographed with visitors, particularly boys and girls. They would stay in the Pets' Corner for part of the day, but they always returned to their mother's care in the evening. Then they would have a fine game and once I was lucky enough to see them playing with their mother's tail after they had returned from Pets' Corner.

Max and Climax lived a very happy life while they were young. Now they are about a year old or perhaps a little more.

That is the sort of old woman I admire.

INSPECTOR PLAYFAIR

Solution

Playfair had had made a microscopic examination of the dust from Alum's coat pocket—that coat in which he had for two months "strolled about the streets of Battersworth." Among this dust was unmistakable evidence of the "church works, blacking works and brewery", a series of pointers, which, taken together, left no doubt in Playfair's mind that the wearer of the coat was the man he was looking for.

But Tanya doesn't sing there any more. One day Foreman Bergel came along and said really this was a stop. Tanya was holding up the second Five Year Plan. Even Foreman Bergel found himself perking up his ears and laying down his tools when she started to sing.

So Tanya Alexandrovna was solemnly fined and told not to do it again and reported to the factory committee.

Foreman Bergel insisted on that. And when he had done his duty he got up and demanded that Tanya be sent to the Conservatoire.

Perhaps Dr Lin Yutang will. This Chinese philosopher, whose "My Country and My People" was so popular, has now written "The Importance of Living". It is a subtle, gently stimulating, testament, which undermines death and, with irresistible languor, flatters the banner of "Do What You Will".

Here is his crowning battle-song, which, he says, sums up the ancient message of Chinese philosophy:

*The wisdom of the foolish,
The妙处 of stupidity,
The advantage of lying low.*

But don't imagine that because he counsels idleness his philosophy is a negative one.

Life to him is a crowded pageant of eating, drinking, lying curled up in bed, talking, having conversations, drinking tea, counting wild geese as they sing across the sky in a word, savoring life slowly instead of being forced to say like most of us: "That's tomorrow, that way!"

Read his book if you can find the time!

Grand Old Lady

LADY OXFORD is a wonderful old body. She invited fifteen women "of influence and achievement" to write of their youth and, adding a chapter by herself, has made a book called Myself When Young (Frederick Muller, 12s. 6d.).

And how she can write! Among her chosen contributors are Marjorie Bowen, the Baroness von Hutten, Ellen Wilkinson and Sylvia Pankhurst, but she writes them all to a standstill, full of verve, full of fun and instinct with downright good sense.

I have enjoyed reading little in the last year or two as I have her thirty pages in this book—and for my sins, I have to read hundreds of pages a year which I do not enjoy at all.

The other contributions are all interesting—except one by Chanel, the seamstress, which is pretentious nonsense but they all tend to illustrate what Lady Oxford says in her opening paragraph:

"Men seize opportunities quicker than women because my sex have less imagination and think that they can by their looks and their brains, always command attention."

Women, unless they are aqua, are as over-individual and unfatigable as rats and have an erroneous belief in their own powers."

Pew men have a sense of personal safety, would have dared to print that.

Yet it is quite true.

Lady Oxford is shy about telling us her age. But Mr. Gladstone was writing funny verse about her in 1889, and her spirit to-day remains as green and elastic as the G.O.M.'s after his birthday.

"Without boasting," she declares, "there is nothing which I have not done with my youth. I have valued it from the first hour of my consciousness, encouraged and exploited it, and it is with me to-day."

That is the sort of old woman I admire.

Solution To Problem No. 69

South leads heart nine and (1) if West ducks North wins and the king and returns the eight for West to win. South discarding jack of spades West must now lead away from his diamonds and, with a finesse if necessary, North wins two tricks.

If East saves only one spade, both North's spades are good; if he saves only one club North puts him in with the club and East has to lead spades from his queen five up to North's king seven.

(2) If, at trick one, West plays queen of hearts North plays low and West wins. If West now leads a diamond North will win two tricks as before and play will continue as in solution No. 1. But if West returns his low heart instead of a diamond, North wins and again the spade jack is discarded from South. North now leads the ace and jack of diamonds. If West ducks the second, play is as in No. 1; but if West wins the second diamond with his queen he must then lead a diamond to South's ten, North discarding his jack of clubs. If East holds a club North's spades are good; if East holds two spades, South wins with club three and king of spades.

Room with a View
-to authorship

SHOULD women novelists start in pigtails? If you ask Margery Allingham, she'll toss her dark head and laugh and say, "Why, of course." For at thirty-three she is an ace detective-story writer—and she began her girlhood.

She was a child of a very kind, far-seeing father who gave her a room of her own to work in. For a year she wrote the same fairy story over and over and over again—not unnaturally, she can't for the life of her remember it to-day. Then, at fifteen, she thought it was time she left school and got down seriously to authorship.

Within twelve months she had finished an 80,000-word yarn about pictures, which she sold straight off to an English publisher—and to an American publisher, too.

From then on—and you are still only half-way through the story—the excitement is terrific, with the Yard pounding along at Mr. Campion's heels while he draws level with Destiny.

A slow start and a glorious finish. A mighty close one, too. I thought Mr. Campion was almost lost. But let Miss Allingham tell her own dismaying story. With those eighteen years behind her, she knows how.

"Why, the poor little thing is constipated. No wonder she's fretful. That is the chief thing a mother has to guard against, Mrs. Grant."

"Kiddies don't understand; they're so absorbed in their games, and often neglect Nature's call. Then they get bilious, lose their appetite and become irritable."

"You'll find it keeps the bowels regular, purifies the system and eases stomach upsets and biliousness."

"If children are to thrive and grow strong and keen witted, they must eat well and digest what they eat. There's no better way than the regular weekly dose of 'California Syrup of Figs.' All children love it."

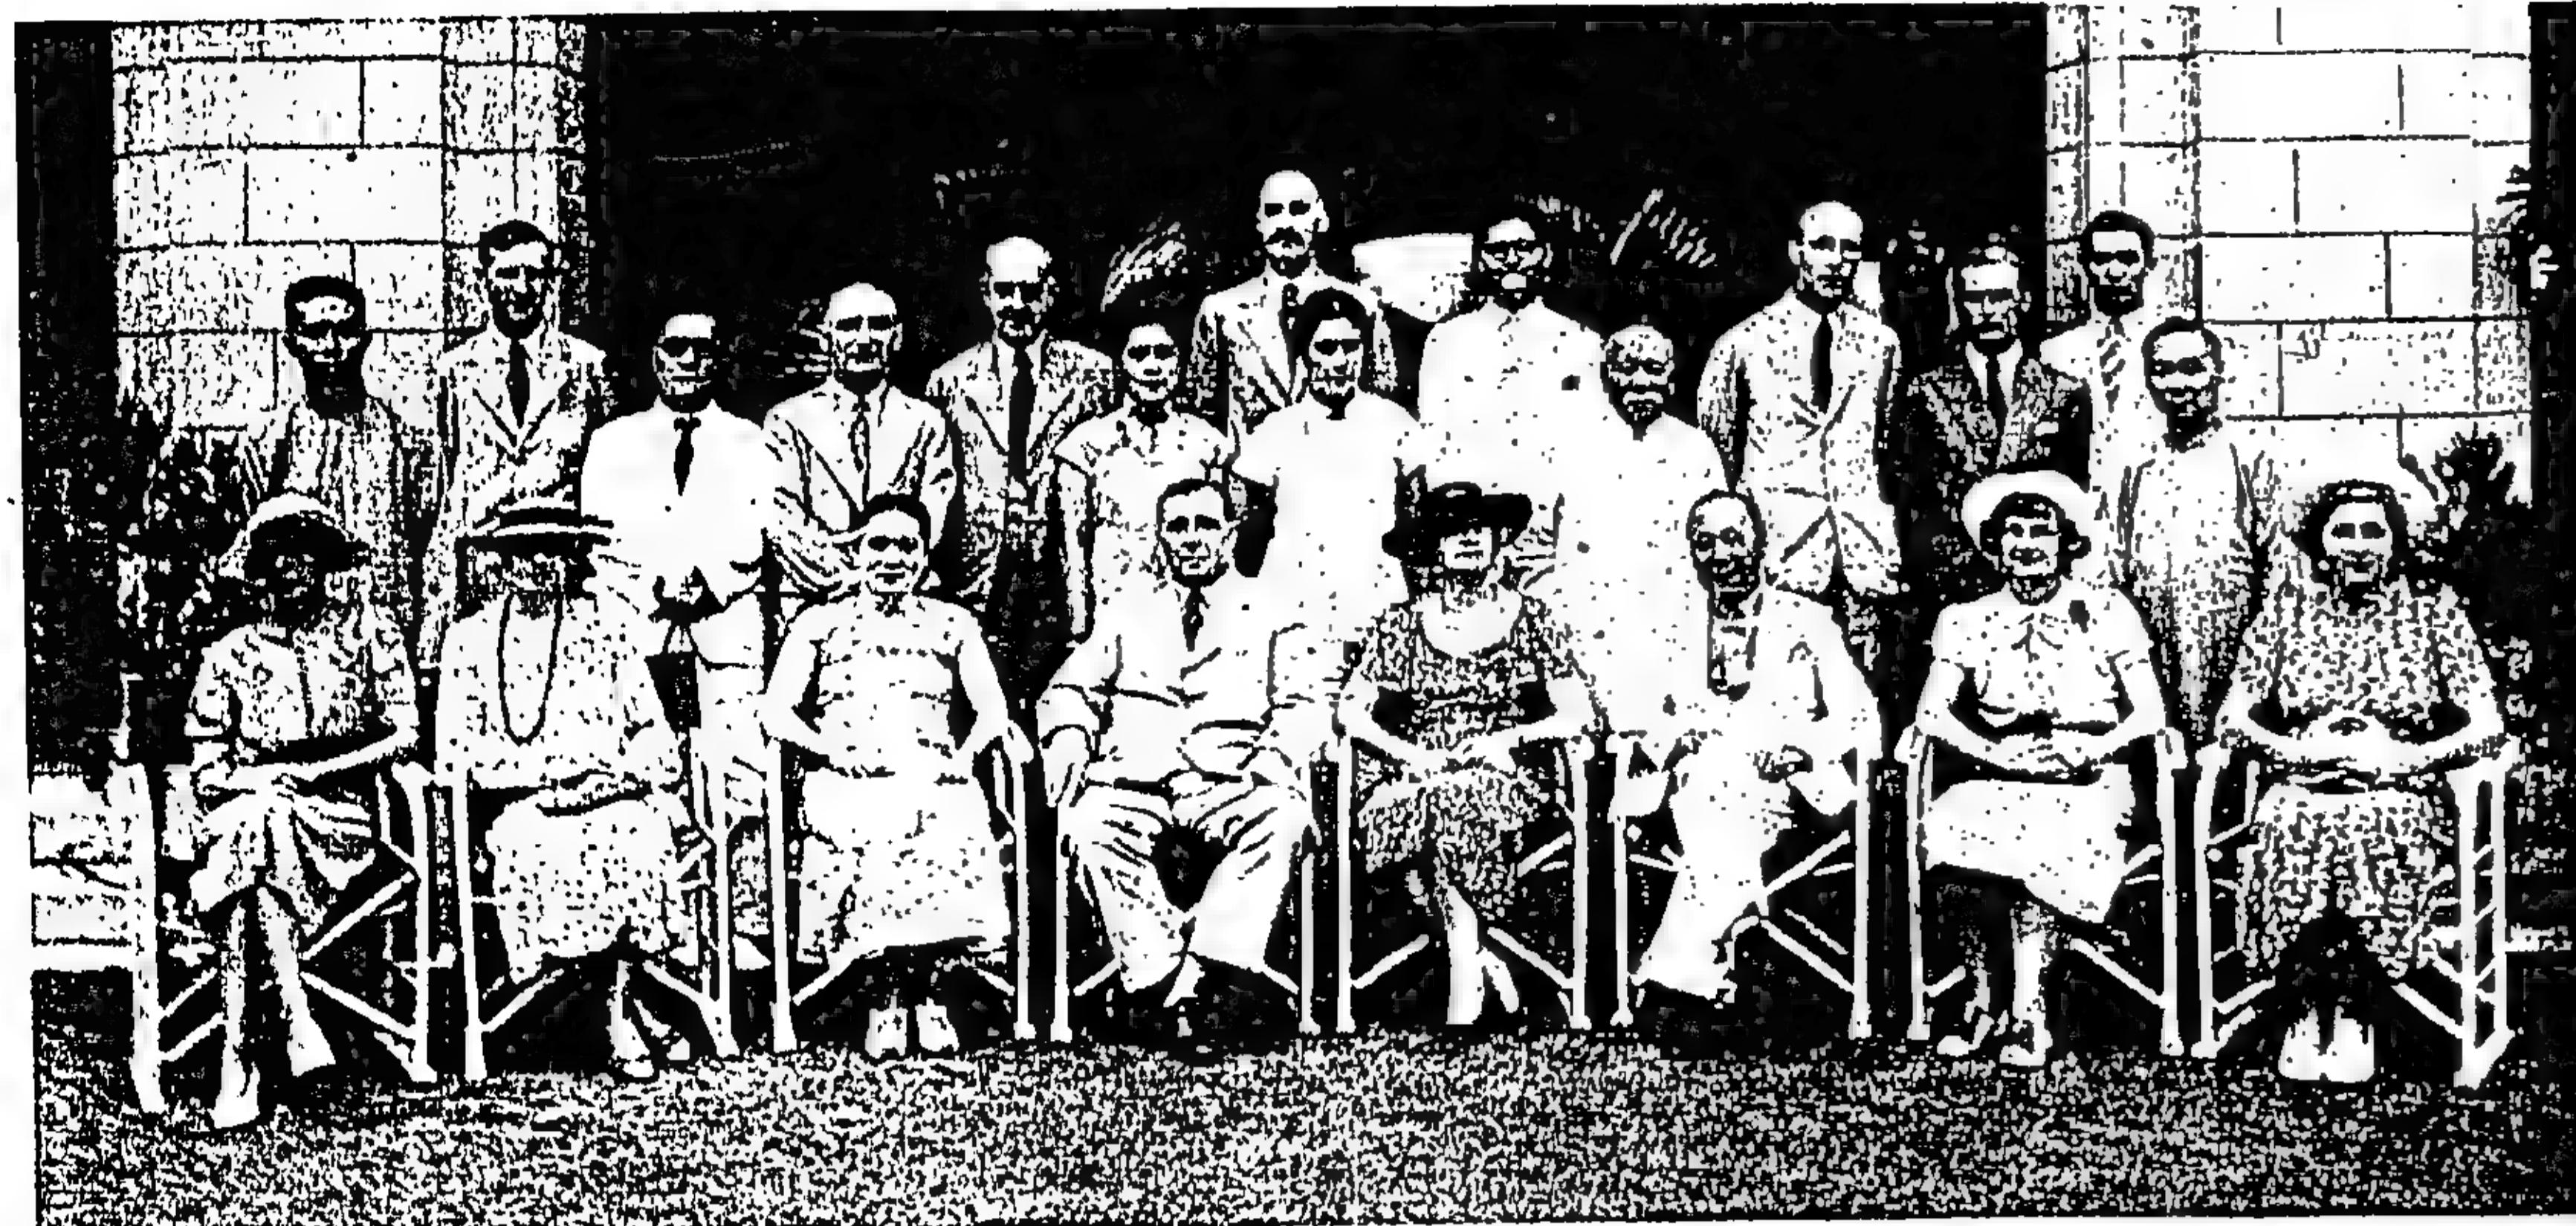

"If I were you, I would send for a bottle now and give Winnie a dose at once."

"Be sure you insist on 'California Syrup of Figs.' Mrs. Grant, I am surprised that some mothers are ready to experiment with cheap and drastic preparations. It's such a pity they don't realize that 'California Syrup of Figs' is a perfectly safe children's laxative. I know myself how carefully and scientifically it is prepared."

GUARDING AGAINST TERRORIST

Raids Filling Gaols
In Shanghai As
August 13 Nears

Shanghai, Aug. 6. Prisons in the International Settlement are filling up rapidly as a result of extensive raids which the Municipal police are carrying out as part of elaborate precautions to ensure public safety on August 13, the anniversary of the Shanghai hostilities.

Besides rounding up numerous Chinese suspected of being connected with political propaganda work, the police have so far seized large quantities of anti-Japanese literature.

Many foreign and Chinese firms have reported that they intend declaring a holiday on August 13 in order not to endanger the lives of their employees by possible terrorist acts.

Chinese public bodies are freely distributing circulars advising local shopkeepers to close up on August 13, to keep off the streets, and to indulge in a vegetarian diet in honour of China's war dead.

Meanwhile, scenes reminiscent of the turbulent days of last August are being re-enacted in the main streets of the Settlement, as police busily unload barbed-wire entanglements to set them ready for use at a moment's notice.

Indicative of Japanese nervousness with regard to a possible outbreak of trouble in territories under their jurisdiction, regular plane patrols are flying over the outskirts of Shanghai at all hours of the day, presumably spotting guilla movements.—Reuter.

CHINESE PROTEST

Shanghai, Aug. 6. A protest against the handing over of Chinese suspected of terrorist activities in the International Settlement to the Japanese military authorities, has been lodged by the Chinese Ratepayers' Association with the Shanghai Municipal Council.

While the contents of the Ratepayers' protest are not divulged, it is learned that the communication deals mainly with the legal question entering into the issue. The protest is said to point out that the Council in permitting the handing over of an alleged Chinese terrorist, acted in contravention of the Mixed Court Rendition Agreement of 1930, which stated that any person arrested by the Municipal Police must be brought first to the Special District Court within 24 hours, exclusive of holidays, failing which he must be released.—Reuter Special.

Great Storm Still Sweeping England

London, Aug. 5. The great storm which moved east across southern England yesterday but missed London, passed over the northern holiday resorts to-day causing much havoc. In London the temperature, after standing several degrees cooler than yesterday, mounted again after luncheon, and in the late afternoon was several degrees higher in spite of prevailing overcast conditions. Fog was experienced in a number of districts and so dense was it in the Channel that shipping was held up in the Straits of Dover and between North and South Foreland.

At Deal, people standing on the beach could not even see the water. Mist and fog delayed continuation to-day of the Home Defence air exercises, but active operations were resumed at 2 p.m. Weather was however still bad and the "Eastland" plan had to be considerably modified. Over the week-end the Secretary for War will visit the anti-aircraft units of the Territorial army taking part in the air defence operations.—British Wireless.

GERMAN PRESS WARNS PRAGUE

Berlin, Aug. 5. A serious warning to Prague against further frontier violations by planes is issued by the Diplomatic Korrespondenz for the Foreign Office, saying that the recent Czech apology is regarded with scepticism.

"If the Czechs believe such provocations can be carried out with impunity, measures taken in other countries show that such attempts can be met by drastic measures similar to those France was compelled to take along the Pyrenees border."—Reuter.

SHIPS IN WIRELESS COMMUNICATION

The following ships are expected to be in wireless communication with the radio station: Zulderkerk, Nelsore, Genshield, Hongkong; Van Heutze, Pingwo, Norvikken, President Adams, Empress of Canada, Yuen-sang, Hingsang, Gencisnau and Potsdam.

HERE TO DISCUSS REFUGEE PROBLEM

"The Kwangtung Provincial Government has been exerting its utmost efforts to prevent war refugees from seeking refuge in Hongkong, though thousands of them, instead of evacuating to rural districts as instructed by the government, came to the British Colony in the past few months.

"General Wu Teh-chen, chairman of the government, personally disapproves especially the evacuation of wealthy families from Canton to Hongkong, for by their removal a large number of the poorer class in the Colony are deprived of their accommodation and livelihood.

Thus spoke Dr. Ling Tao-yung, director of the Bureau of Agriculture and Forestry of the Kwangtung government, who is now in Hongkong to consult with Sir Geoffrey Northcote in connection with the refugee problem on behalf of General Wu Teh-chen.

Dr. Ling informed local pressmen that General Wu is very grateful for the various generous measures of the Hongkong Government to relieve the homeless, war stricken people from Kwangtung.

LOYALIST INFANTRY INACTIVE

Enormous Losses
In Ten Days Of Ebro Offensive

Saragossa, Aug. 5.

After ten days of savage fighting, the Loyalists abruptly ceased all activity on the Ebro River front. The insurgents, however, continue to bomb and shell concentrations of Loyalist troops but the infantry has not yet received the order to advance. According to an insurgent estimate, the Loyalists have suffered no less than 30,000 casualties since the offensive began, and it is claimed that 18 road bridges have been destroyed.

Many militiamen, evidently preferring surrender to death, are reported to have entered the insurgent lines.—Reuter.

High Number Of Promotions In Army

London, Aug. 5.

To-night's London Gazette is the largest in history of the army. It contains the names of more than 20,000 officers—nearly one-third of the 20,000 terms and captains in the British army—promoted on August 1, as a result of the new conditions of service scheme announced by the War Secretary in the House of Commons last week.

This is the largest single list of promotions ever issued, has been made possible by abolition of the system whereby since 1871, promotions have been dependent upon vacancies. At present approximately 50 per cent. of the officers fail to reach the rank of Major. In future all officers in combatant arms will know on entry that they may expect to reach the rank of Major subject to the usual qualifications, and to be retained in the service to at least until the age of 47, if not further promoted.—British Wireless.

Recital Brings Old Chinese Music Here

Under the auspices of the Hongkong Chinese Women's Soldiers' Relief Association two recitals tonight and to-morrow at 9 p.m. will be given at the Great Hall of the University when the Hongkong public will have a rare opportunity of hearing the performance of some of the ancient musical instruments of China.

In Shanghai the Tai Tung Musical Association has for many years devoted special efforts to collecting records of ancient Chinese music, particularly of the Tang and Han Dynasties. At the same time they have encouraged the study of the actual kind of instruments for which this music was written.

Prof. Wei Chung-lob, who is recognized as the leading exponent of this ancient classical music will, at the two recitals, give expositions on three of the instruments, of which the principal and most beautiful is the P'u-p'u, a stringed instrument played in the manner of guitar.

Those who have been privileged to hear a few of the selections which form part of the programme will agree that they furnish a satisfaction to western musical tastes which it is often difficult to derive from more modern Chinese music.

Foreigners May Populate British Empire

URGING that something should be done "before it is too late," the Report of the Oversea Settlement Board asks Dominion Governments to consider the admission of desirable foreigners as immigrants.

The Board considers that with the falling birth rate, both in Great Britain and the Dominions, there is a likelihood of a serious dwindling of the whole Empire population within the next few years.

Moreover the Board points out policy of "infiltration" should be adopted by which people in the sudden and material increase in the United Kingdom would be nominated birth-rate since 1933 which cannot be by individuals, or approved organisations dissociated from the administrative measures embarked on partly for that specific purpose."

BRITAIN TOO ATTRACTIVE?

It is suggested that one of the reasons for the big fall in migration to the Dominions is that unemployment, insurance, old age pensions, and other forms of social services in Great Britain provide today a sense of security which people are loath to leave.

The Report recommends that this might be overcome by reciprocal arrangements between the home country and the Dominions.

Other conclusions of the Board are that:

"Reduced shipping rates should be provided.

It rests with the Dominions to create conditions which will attract migrants.

A planned policy is essential.

Migration should not be made a matter of trade bargaining between the United Kingdom and the Dominions.

The Board proposes that there should be more opportunities for workers, teachers and schoolchildren to visit the Dominions.

The Report is signed by the Duke of Devonshire as chairman of the Oversea Settlement Board.

Instead it is suggested that the

SAW OWN FOOT CUT OFF

A 21-years old girl told Mr. Justice Branson and a jury at Bristol Assizes recently how she remained conscious after she had been involved in an accident which cut off one of her feet.

"I was knocked off my cycle," she said, "and saw my foot lying in the road. I said to my companion, 'My foot is off; don't tell mother.'"

She was Miss Olive Muriel Cole, of West Wells, Corsham, and was awarded £1,450 damages against the Great Western Railway.

Mr. Fox Andrews, for the defence, said that the lorry driver had to brake hard on the corner because Miss Cole was riding over the crown of the road. The driver would not have found himself in any difficulty if the girl had not been on the wrong side.

NOT SO BAD IF—

Miss Cole, who is an extremely good-looking blonde, said afterwards:

"It would not have been so bad if I had received facial injury; or if it had been my arm; I could then have got about more easily."

"I think it is a very fair settlement. I have not made up my mind what I shall do, but my work before the accident meant that I had to do a good deal of walking and, of course, I cannot do that now. I am still in the doctor's hands."

EMPIRE NEWS CIVIL LIBERTY IN INDIA

Calcutta.

The partnership of the speeches made in England by Mr. Jawaharlal Nehru, ex-President of Congress, is the subject of considerable comment here.

Sir Khwaja Nazimuddin, Home Member in Bengal, criticises the remarks made by Mr. Nehru on civil liberty in provinces with Congress Ministries and in those with non-Congress Ministries. Mr. Nehru's remarks were to the disadvantage of the non-Congress provinces.

The Home Member says that Mr. Nehru's comments are not based on fact. He reminds him that since the non-Congress Government has been operating in Bengal, the problem of detained political prisoners has almost ceased to exist. In 14 months, 1,700 have been released.

There is no evidence of so-called repression in Bengal, says Sir Khwaja, while there are plenty of examples in the Congress provinces of Bombay, Behar, Madras, and the United Provinces.

Australia

IMMIGRATION OF REFUGEES

Sydney.

Pointed comments have been made on the reported statement of Mr. T. W. White, Federal Minister for Trade and Customs, at the Evans-Bains refugee conference, that Australia has done everything possible in the matter of refugee immigration.

It is emphasised that only 600 Jews have been admitted to Australia in three years, while thousands of Italians and other immigrants from Southern Europe have poured in every year.

The newspapers, while admitting that mass immigration is undesirable, declare that it is imperative that steps be taken immediately for the admission of a broader stream of non-British immigrants, as recommended by the British Overseas Settlement Board. They demand an improvement of Australia House's "pitifully inadequate" immigration organisation.

South Africa

DROP IN CUSTOMS
REVENUE

Cape Town.

Mr. Richards, president of the Rand Chamber of Commerce, says that the drop in Customs revenue by just over £500,000 in the first quarter of the current financial year, compared with the same period in 1937, is because of the over-stocking due to the exceptionally large volume of business done in 1936 and 1937.

Since June 1937, however, business has more or less settled down, says Mr. Richards, and the last 12 months had been a normal period for trade. He adds that there is no sign of depression.

In Steps of Voortrekkers.—The South African Empire Group has presented a Dutch Bible to the organisers of the memorial trek. Two Boer ox-waggons leave here on Aug. 8 in the steps of Voortrekkers, one travelling to Pretoria and the other to the Blood River. The journeys will take over four months.

Share-Pushing Charges.—Frank Bertram Lockwood, who had been arrested on a warrant from England, appeared in the Magistrate's Court at Pretoria on charges under the English Larceny Act. The hearing was adjourned until Thursday to enable Lockwood to appear with Richard Castro and Sidney Castro. The two Castros were arrested at Brits, Northern Transvaal, on warrants telegraphed from London on 15 charges of obtaining money or valuable securities, totalling £5,700, on false pretences. The offences are alleged to be of the share-pushing type.

CENSUS OF NATIVES

Johannesburg.

Although the Transvaal Executive of the All-African National Congress is calling upon Johannesburg natives to refuse to assist in the native census, it is expected that it will be carried out without native resistance.

The census is being held under the new Native Laws Amendment Act, which provides that unemployed and redundant natives may be ejected from urban areas after a census.

The Tanganyika Government has issued an official communiqué stating that Miss Joan Parsons, the Lemington airwoman, has been found by a District Officer. She is unharmed and her machine undamaged.

Miss Parsons came down while on a flight from Cape Town to London, about 200 miles from Mbeya, Tanganyika. She was located by natives after being missing for three days.

A party sent out from Kiberege with supplies met Miss Parsons making her way to the station.

BOWLS SQUABBLE COULD HAVE BEEN AVOIDED

Hon. Secretary Resents Charge Of Discourtesy

WHILE listening last evening to the arguments at the General Committee meeting of the Hongkong Lawn Bowls Association as to why the Kowloon F.C. green had not been used for singles matches, I could not help thinking that a little bit of tact used at the right time would have prevented the squabble, and there would have been no necessity for the point at issue to develop to such a stage. Until the matter was brought up for discussion, I for one had never heard of it, and I confess I was rather surprised by the tone of the letter sent to the Hon. Secretary of the L.B.A. by the Hon. Secretary of the Kowloon F.C. The cause of the trouble was apparently this: at the beginning of the open championships, the Competition Sub-Committee allotted several matches in the rinks and pairs to the K.F.C. green. Then after 11 matches had been played on this green the Sub-Committee received complaints (though not officially) that the K.F.C. was not the ideal green for open championship matches, whereupon the Sub-Committee has not allotted matches to the K.F.C. since. Officials of this club resent the charge that their green is not good enough for an open championship match and the Hon. Secretary has written to the L.B.A. asking for an official reply as to why the green has not been used for singles ties. In his letter the Hon. Secretary of the K.F.C. charged the Hon. Secretary of the L.B.A. with lack of courtesy in not informing the K.F.C. the reason for not fixing matches there. While it is easy to understand the annoyance of K.F.C. officials, one could not help but feel that the letter might have been more kindly worded. Mr. Claude Hesketh, who has carried out his duties as Hon. Secretary of the H.K.L.B.A. extremely well during the last few years, quite rightly resented the charge of "lack of courtesy," one which anyone knowing him well would not dream of making.

Easiest Way Out

I am not attempting to defend the Competition Sub-Committee here. If no official complaints had been made, I think this body acted rather too hurriedly in condemning the K.F.C. green; it might have waited a little while longer and if further complaints were received, then action could have been taken. At the same time, however, the members of the Sub-Committee have to take cognisance of what they hear. Mr. J. F. McGowan hit the nail on the head when he said that he and other members of the Sub-Committee were concerned only with the best greens and not those which were suspect. For instance, if the Sub-Committee had used of greens against which no complaints whatever had been made, it would, of course, be better that matches be fixed on these greens. Why invite criticism by fixing games on a green some people have complained about? The position was not made any better when a couple of members of the General Committee stated that they had played on the K.F.C. green

How Max Schmeling and Joe Louis compared on that memorable night in June when the German, bucking the tradition that heavyweights never come back, tried to regain the title from the Brown Bomber. Schmeling proved no more successful than Jim Corbett, Bob Fitzsimmons, Jim Jeffries and Jack Dempsey, all of whom tried and failed; he was knocked out in the very first round.

Loss of £25,000 on the Manchester Test

By Frank Thorogood

Manchester, July 12.

More rain here to-day ruled out any hope of cricket, and the third Test match between England and Australia was abandoned without a ball having been bowled.

It has been a dreadful ordeal, not only for players and intending spectators, but also for the Lancashire county club.

The total loss to all concerned, including entering and other incidentals associated with the trading interests of the city, is estimated in round figures at £25,000.

But the unfortunate sequel to the case under notice is that representatives of cricket in Scotland and Durham, unduly alarmed, have been led to infer that the Australians might consider the possibility of cancelling matches in those areas.

In the development of the incident Australia, I think, has good cause to resent an imputation cast without warning on their touring responsibilities.

With regard to the next Test at Leeds, which begins on July 22, it is expected that England will let well alone and choose her team from the same 13 players who languished at Old Trafford. Heaven knows, they have been long enough together in the City of Manchester to understand each other. Let us hope that the Yorkshire weather will be more worthy of another great occasion.

THE TEAM FOR LEEDS

Those responsible for a touring team and are well aware of the importance of honouring an original programme and of the chaos, not to mention the bad feeling, that would arise from following any other course.

But the unfortunate sequel to the case under notice is that representatives of cricket in Scotland and Durham, unduly alarmed, have been led to infer that the Australians might consider the possibility of cancelling matches in those areas.

In the development of the incident Australia, I think, has good cause to resent an imputation cast without warning on their touring responsibilities.

To put it bluntly, this "extra Test" suggestion represents one more of the many hares started when England and Australia are playing in this country. Once started, however, these cricket hares run a considerable distance before the kill and do a lot of mischief.

SCORES CENTURY FOR WORCESTER AGAINST HANTS CHAMPIONSHIP LEADERS WIN THEIR MATCHES

London, Aug. 5.

The County Cricket Championship programme which concluded to-day was chiefly notable for one thing—the return to English cricket of the Nawab of Pataudi, the famous Indian cricketer, who scored a century in his first Test match against Australia.

Playing for his old county, Worcestershire, Pataudi hit up 121 not out in Worcester's only innings against Hampshire which realised 419 for three wickets. Worcestershire took points on first innings.

The Australian tourists concluded their two-day match against Scotland at Dundee to-day, the game ending in a draw.

Yorkshire, the Championship leaders, easily accounted for Leicestershire, winning by an innings and 200 runs. Middlesex, Gloucester, Kent, Essex and Sussex were the other successful counties.

Scores:

Australians drew with Scotland at Dundee. Australians 213 (Stanley McCabe 62, Symon 5 for 33) and 320 (Fingleton 49, Ward 71, Loddon 3 for 126); Scotland 68 (Fleetwood-Smith 4 for 21) and 188 for 4.

Gloucester beat Glamorgan by an innings and 214 runs. Gloucester 503 for 9 declared (Neale 100, Hammond 140); Glamorgan 173 and 116 (Goddard 5 for 33).

Middlesex beat Warwickshire by 162 runs. Middlesex 395 (Edrich 158) and 184 for 7 declared; Warwickshire 201 and 211 (Robins 5 for 39).

Worcester beat Hampshire on first innings. Hampshire 313 and 91 for 2; Worcester 413 for 3 declared (King 124, Nawab of Pataudi 121 not out).

Essex beat Notts by 197 runs. Essex 402 (Wilcox 102, Vose five for 60) 250 for 9 declared; Notts 302 (Heine 108 unfinished, Peter-Smith five for 153, Smith four for 61).

Sussex beat Northants by nine wickets. Northants 220 (James 101, Nye four for 81), 110 (Nye five for 47), Sussex 201 (Barlett 114, Herber five for 103), 41 for one.

The Weston-supermare match was drawn owing to rain.

Somerset 487 for nine, declared (Frank-Lee 162, Mitchell six for 137); Derby three for nine.

Kent beat Lancashire by 125 runs.

Shanghai Beats Navy At Weihaiwei

In the first of the series of cricket matches between the Shanghai Cricket Club and the Royal Navy played at Weihaiwei on Sunday, the Shanghai team won by nine runs. The scores were:

Brig.-Gen. Macnaghten's team 201
Sir Percy Noble's team 192

Kent 320 (Faugh 134, Wilkinson 5 for 72) and 205 (Wilkinson 7 for 53); Lancashire 246 (Todd 5 for 60) and 103.

Yorkshire beat Leicestershire by an innings and 74 runs. Leicester 297 (Leyland 5 for 77) and 69 (Bowes 5 for 28, Verity 5 for 36); Yorks 440 for 6 declared (Barber 130).—Reuter.

Lunch Scores

London, Aug. 5.

Cricket lunch scores were:

Army 315 and 71-2; Public Schools 270 and 205-9. Match drawn.

Essex 402 and 250-9; Notts 302 and 60.

Somerset 487-0 declared; Derby 3-0. Match drawn.

Sussex 291 and 22-1; Northants 220 and 109.

Warwick 206 and 68-0; Middlesex 184-7 declared. Rain stopped play.

Worcester 343 for 3; Hants 313.—Reuter Bulletin.

EUROPE'S STORM CENTRE

CZECH-SLOVAKIA might almost be better named Bohemia-Slovakia, for it unites the old kingdom of Bohemia (Czech-Bohemian) with the ancient Slovakia and brings together again the Czechs and the Slovaks, two branches of the same Slav race, which German and Magyar aggression in the past had separated. Czechoslovakia is thus primarily a natural and not an artificial State.

Czech and Slovak have been living here since the seventh century. The Slovaks were early conquered by the Magyars (Hungarians) and for a thousand years remained a subject race. But the Czechs founded the famous kingdom of Bohemia, whose free spirit was exemplified in Jan Hus, follower of our English Wycliffe, and in the foundation of the first university in Germanic lands—the University of Prague (1348).

Twice Czechs fought, against German pressure, to maintain their religious and political freedom. The second time (Battle of the White Mountain, 1620) they lost, and passed under Austrian domination until the world war.

Continued Austrian and Magyar attempts to obliterate Czech and Slovak nationality failed, and the nineteenth century witnessed a revival of national feeling among the Austro-Hungarian minorities. So, in the world war and the probable collapse of Austria-Hungary, Czech and Slovak saw their hope of freedom.

Abroad and at home, Czechs began working for the national and Moravians, from the Slovak cause, headed by M. Masaryk, leader of the Realist Party and a Member of Parliament. He was joined abroad by M. Benes in 1915, and from London they issued in November the first official Manifesto against last was handed over to Czechoslovakia in default of any better place to go. The National Czech Council was formed with M. Masaryk as President, and one year later the Allies made Czech independence one of the war time.

A Czech Government was set up in Paris and on October 18, 1918, the independence of Press. It recognised the rights of Czechoslovakia was officially proclaimed. The Austrian collapse vites based on sex, birth in that month made this a reality, and the Slovaks joined territory of the Republic one in the Republic that was set up and indivisible. Voting is by

From east to west Czechoslovakia extends 600 miles; from north to south it varies from 126 miles to 50 miles across.

More than one-third of population in neither Czech nor Slovak. Largest minority is German (23 per cent.), distributed along the frontiers of Bohemia and Moravia and on the inner slopes of the Bohemian Wald, Erz Gebirge and Sudeten Mountains.

Six languages—Czech, Slovak, German, Magyar, Polish and Ruthenian—are officially used.

Czechoslovakia is more than 200 miles from any sea. Water communications lie along the German rivers Elbe and Oder and southeastwards along the Danube. Any extension of German influence in Hungary would therefore threaten Czechoslovakia with complete isolation. The famous Skoda armament works are situated at Pilsen.

February 18, 1937, which pro- conceded by the Czech Govern- mised a greater proportion of ment.

Czechoslovakia began as a pacifist State.

Unfortunately the economic in 1920 changed all that. Today the State possesses a magnificently equipped standing army of 170,000 men, but could not be in an emergency increased from 29,000 to 92,000; an alliance with France and Russia brings many Germans out of work with these two countries to her aid

Inevitable discontent with if she is the victim of aggressive economic conditions, governed by world conditions, led to political discontent; and this

The Franco-Czech Treaty was encouraged by the Nazis negotiated in October, 1923, when in 1933 they came to power.

The Henlein (Nazi) group It was declared to be in no way within the Sudeten Germans anti-German. The Czechs forthwith repudiated the 1937 minorities with concluded friendly agreements with Germany on international rivers and on the port of Hamburg.

Dr. Benes has always advocated friendship with Germany, A new Minorities Statute is insisting only on the preservation of the freedom and now under negotiation. But one of the demands put forward by the German minority

The Locarno Treaty of 1935 approved the Franco-Czech Treaty of 1924 and contained an Arbitration Treaty between Germany and Czechoslovakia which is still in existence, as it was officially confirmed by Germany in 1936. This covers all political and legal disputes, except such as, for example, Minorities, which come under the League.

In May, 1935, the Franco-Soviet and the Czech-Soviet Pacts based upon Locarno and the League were signed, after Germany had objected to the conclusion of an Eastern Pact which would have prevented aggression in Eastern Europe.

These Pacts come into force only in the event of aggression; and Soviet assistance is conditional upon French mobilisation.

Czechoslovakia forms with Yugoslavia and Rumania the Little Entente. A Permanent Council and an Economic Council meet regularly.

In 1935 President Masaryk retired, received the title of "Liberator," and was succeeded by M. Eduard Benes. Masaryk died in September, 1937. The present Prime Minister is Milan Hodza, a Slovak.

CLASH AT CHIEHSIEN

Shangcheng, Aug. 6. Chinese "dare-to-die" corps inflicted a heavy defeat on unit of 200 Japanese at Chepingtsun, a village north of Chiehsien, in south Shensi on July 4. After a half day's battle, the Japanese fled into the walled city of Chiehsien. Japanese, four sub-machine guns. The Chinese captured several and more than 20 rifles.—Central News.

140,000 REFUGEES IN SHANGHAI

Hankow, Aug. 6. There are still 140,000 Chinese refugees accommodated in various camps in Shanghai, according to a Shanghai message.

There were about 300,000 refugees after the outbreak of hostilities in Shanghai. About 100,000 of them have been repatriated to their native districts during the past few months.—Central News.

JAPANESE TROOPS MOVED NORTH

Yuanku, Aug. 6. Large numbers of Japanese troops at Tsimyang in north Honan are reported to have been withdrawn to Shinsiang, important junction of the Peiping-Hankow Railway and the Taikou-Chinghuan Railway, whence they will move northward. Japanese military supplies in Pei and Tsimyang are also being transported northward by way of Shinsiang.—Central News.

JAPANESE WARSHIPS SHELL COAST

Swatow, Aug. 6. About 100 Japanese bluejackets in a number of motor boats attempted a landing at Jaoping on the Kwangtung coast at 6 a.m. yesterday but were repulsed by the Chinese after a half-hour engagement.

At 10 a.m. a Japanese warship off the coast at Touloum fired seven shells ashore and machine-gunned the fishing junks nearby.

At 4 p.m. another Japanese warship bombarded the coast at Tenghai. Seven shells were fired but did little damage.—Central News.

CHOLERA WARNING

Danger of Bathing At Laichikok Beach

OFFICIAL STATEMENT

A warning against bathing at Laichikok beach, owing to the danger of cholera, was issued yesterday by the Director of Medical Services, Hon. Dr. Selwyn-Clarke.

Dr. Selwyn-Clarke declared that Laichikok was within the harbour limits and that people bathing in the water there ran a possible risk of cholera infection. There was additional danger following the opening of a hospital for the treatment of cholera patients in the vicinity.

"Although strict precautions are taken in connection with the disinfestation of human wastes from patients treated in this hospital," declared Dr. Selwyn-Clarke, "it is difficult to be absolutely certain that no living cholera germs find their way into the sea in the neighbourhood of the beach, at any rate for the time being. Needless to say, every effort is being taken by the hospital authorities to minimise this danger."

According to Dr. Selwyn-Clarke, recent investigations in Far Eastern waters had shown that cholera germs could live in salt water for 47 days.
